IT'S D-DAY PLUS 15 YEARS — The awesomeness of D-Day, when the Allied invasion of Europe was thrown against France's Normandy coast, is recalled by these vivid photos made there on that day, June 6, 1944. Top: Infantrymen rush to the beach from their landing craft. One (right) is minus a shoe. Lower left: General Eisenhower, supreme commander, directs the attack. GI Revisits Bloody Beach

Today Is Anniversary Of Normandy Landing

OMAHA BEACH, France (AP) — The former GI stood on an invasion beach of Normandy and looked around.

"I remember there was a two-story frame house as we went out from the beach and I don't see the house."

Edward Green, Elizabeth City, N.C., paced up and down the beach trying to pinpoint the exact spot where he landed at 8:30 a.m. on D-Day as a combat engineer.

Green was among scores of U.S. veterans who came back—many of them with their families—to visit the scenes of their heartaches and triumphs on Omaha and Utah beaches in World War II.

Today the setting was peaceful—but the rubble of war still littered the invasion coast on the 15th anniversary of the mammoth second-front assault which started the Allied sweep across Europe and brought Germany to her knees within 11 months.

Moss-covered barges lie scattered about Omaha Beach, and rusted troop carriers settle deep in the sand.

Strips of steel matting used for improvised roads have been twisted by rising and falling rip tides. From off shore, you could hear the water slapping the burned-out hulls of vessels scuttled to make artificial harbors for the invasion craft.

Aside from a few fishermen, the vast expanse remains deserted. Even the inland reminders of the war have almost disappeared.

On the bluffs above the beach, fine sand has invaded the grass-covered pill boxes that sheltered the German defenders.

Hedge rows that provided cover for the Germans have reverted back to jungle thickness.

Herds of grazing cattle and the stillness made it difficult to believe that was ever passed this way.

Along the 30-mile invasion coast French, American and British memorial services marked the anniversary of the assault that claimed 10,724 casualties, including 2,132 dead.

Atlanta Ordered To Halt Segregation in Schools

ATLANTA (AP)—Atlanta school officials have been ordered to stop operating segregated public schools and to present a plan for integration within a reasonable time.

The U.S. District Court ruling Friday said segregated schools are illegal but it did not set a specific date for the end of segregation in Georgia's largest school system.

Judge Frank A. Hooper indicated that any final order would not mean integration next September in Atlanta, seat of the government of one of the very few states without integration at any public educational level.

The decision brought a step nearer the showdown on whether Atlanta's schools will be integrated or closed. Under state law any school ordered integrated would automatically lose state funds and could be shut down by the governor.

Hooper specifically granted an injunction sought by 10 Negro parents of 27 children asking an end to public school segregation in the city.

In a statement issued at the end of the day-long hearing, the judge said his final order would cover these three points:

1. That racial discrimination has and does exist in Atlanta's schools.
2. That the plaintiffs would be granted an injunction prohibiting the Atlanta Board of Education from operating public schools on a segregated basis.
3. That the Atlanta school officials would be allowed a reasonable time to submit a plan for integration.

B. D. Murphy, leading counsel for the Board of Education, said after the decision that "it's my guess the ruling will be appealed." Other defendants declined comment.

Atlanta now has about 70,000 white pupils and 31,000 Negroes in a system enrolling about 10 per cent of all the state's school-age children.

$113,200 Fund Just Ups and Disappears

Los Angeles Police Bank Checking on Mysterious 'Goof'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"We are exploring every avenue," said the FBI.

"The money can't be missing—but it is," said the police.

"Somebody goofed," said the Bank of America.

Where, oh, where can the missing $113,200 be?

The two deliverymen, entrusted with the armored truck from which the money vanished Thursday, aren't saying anything—except to a lie detector.

Police said they submitted voluntarily to a lie detector test Friday and their account was verified.

Records show deliverymen Louis Weiss and Bob Kitchen loaded cash into their truck from the Bank of America vault Thursday morning.

Then they started on a 6½-hour trip—unloading cash at Bank of America branches and other business concerns.

At five of the 17 stops on their route, the vehicle was left unguarded for periods varying from two to five minutes. But investigators said there isn't the slightest evidence that the truck was robbed at any of these stops.

At the end of the route, when the truck rolled up to the Bank of America's Slauson avenue branch, the money was gone.

The FBI said it couldn't recall such a large sum just vanishing from an armored car. Agents are checking each stop on the route.

If the money was delivered by accident to one of the branch banks, a bank spokesman said, it's sure to turn up soon. But if it went by mistake to a business concern, he added, it may take a little longer to find it.

"We're insured and so are the armored truck people," he said. "Actually, it's their worry."

The money—in $2, $5, $20, $50 and $100 bills—is insured with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

to force it to a point of decision. East-West negotiations over the future of Berlin appeared stalled at the end of four weeks of sparring — both out in the open and in private sessions.

Western diplomats believe Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko probably will make his rock bottom offer for a Berlin agreement and a summit meeting in the last 48 hours of the conference.

They think Gromyko is awaiting new instructions direct from Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Gromyko said he did not plan to leave Geneva this weekend but speculation continued in the Western camp that he might fly to Moscow to consult with Khrushchev personally.

The four ministers arranged a secret session at the residence of British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and Lloyd were expected to keep pressing for a Soviet guarantee of free access to West Berlin.

Western officials said privately the three Allied ministers held slight hopes of any immediate progress for resolving this and related Berlin issues.

They feel Gromyko cannot give a final answer to their insistence the Soviets remove threats to West Berlin until he gets further high policy decisions from the Kremlin.

The three Western foreign ministers agreed among themselves before the outset of the conference they would wear down Gromyko at his own waiting game.

The semipublic session at the Palace of Nations Friday brought only a fresh round of argument on the old positions so far as Berlin is concerned.

Dalai Lama Says Tibetans Tortured

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Dalai Lama said today the Chinese Communists are subjecting the Tibetans "to unbearable tortures day and night" to stamp out resistance in the Himalayan kingdom.

The refugee god-king in Mussoorie, India, said he learns every day of "fresh atrocities" against his subjects.

In an apparent reference to India's delicate relations with Red China, arising from the Tibetan revolt, the Dalai Lama said he hoped "countries like India will support those on whose side lies the truth and not those who may be in possession of mere might."

Appeal Filed In Maumee Water Case

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Counsel for the Maumee Watershed Conservancy District today filed a notice of appeal from recent rulings of the 15-judge conservancy court.

The notice was filed here by Karl H. Weaver Jr. of Defiance. He explained his filing was a procedural matter to protect the 20-day filing limit, and that decision was being withheld as to whether the appeal would be pressed before the Third District Court of Appeals.

At the May 18 meeting of the conservancy court, the judges overruled all motions and declared that there was no master plan for watershed conservancy before the court.

The overruled motions included one by Anthony J. Bowers, Allen County prosecutor, who had filed in behalf of his county commissioners asking dissolution of the district. Another motion overruled was that of Weaver in behalf of the district, asking dismissal of Bowers' action.

The court had ruled that there was no conservancy plan before it because of "failures in the record" of the meeting of the district directors held April 11, at which time the board had approved a

Truck Driver Wounded in Separate Clash

Fatal Shooting Comes After Sniper Resists Arrest by Patrolman

HAZARD, Ky. (AP) — A coal miner was killed and a nonunion truck driver wounded Friday in two separate shooting incidents in eastern Kentucky's strike-torn coal fields.

The miner, Bobby Jenkins Jr., 25, was shot by a state trooper attempting to arrest him for shooting at another nonunion trucker.

The killing was the third in the bitter strike over United Mine Workers demands for a 1959 contract.

Earlier Friday several hundred sniper bullets whistled from the hills at nearby Sassafras into a group of about 15 truckers unloading at the nonunion Joe Romeo coal ramp.

Wounded twice was Chester Blair, 20. He was taken to a Hazard hospital, where he was reported in good condition.

The fatal shooting happened two miles west of Sassafras near the Kodak Coal Co. in Perry County.

State police said four men began shooting at nonunion trucker James Maggard when he parked his coal truck at a grocery store at Kodak.

Maggard's truck tires were shot out, and when he went into the store, officers said, five or six shots were fired into the building. No one was hit.

Maggard was hauling coal to the Kodak firm, operated by Stamper Collins, a leader in resistance of about 700 operators to union's demands.

Collins said he and his employees blocked the road so the snipers who shot at Maggard could not get away, then called state police.

Police said when two troopers approached the group Jenkins fired one pistol shot at them, then turned and ran for the hills.

They chased him, they said, and Jenkins fired five more shots at them from the darkened hillside. One of the officers fired back at the pistol flashes and Jenkins was wounded fatally.

State police would not disclose the name of the trooper.

Two others in the group fled, officers said, and the fourth was arrested. He was identified as Columbus Haddix, 42, a UMW member who lives at Kodak.

He was arrested on a warrant charging shooting with intent to kill.

The 12-week-old strike has been plagued with almost daily outbreaks of gunfire plus numerous dynamitings of nonunion coal operations.

The UMW contract calls for a $2 daily pay raise to $24.25 and prohibits union operators from handling nonunion-mined coal.

AMERICAN MYSTERY SHIP FOUND IN DESERT — U. S. Air Force investigators in Wiesbaden, Germany, are planning an expedition into the heart of the Libyan desert to a spot where this American World War II B-24 Liberator bomber has lain untouched and forgotten for 16 years. The bomber, damaged but intact, was discovered by an oil company geological team near the oasis of Kufra, 380 miles south of Benghazi. Flight gear and clothing still hang in their original places inside the plane. Guns, ammunition and logbooks are untouched. Why did the B-24 glide in for a belly landing in 1943? What happened to the crew?

Bomber in Desert Poses Mystery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Sahara Desert has cast up a mystery as deep and baffling as any recorded in the annals of the seas.

A World War II B-24 bomber which had a crew of nine has been found in the waterless waste of Libya, 380 miles south of Benghazi. It was last seen 16 years ago when it took off from a Libyan base for a bombing raid on Naples, Italy.

The bomber lies there on the sand, scarcely damaged, preserved almost perfectly in the hot, arid desert air. Its radio still is in working order.

There is not a trace of the crewmen who flew off on that mission in 1943. No clothing, no written records.

Water bottles, presumably tightly capped, were found still filled in the cabin of the plane. Had the crew crash-landed in the desert and started to walk out to civilization, surely they would have taken all available water with them. If they had been killed in the landing which caused so little damage to the plane, their remains would be there.

Did the crew all bail out somewhere else, as the Pentagon thinks is likely? Then how did the plane fly on for hundreds of miles to let down in a soft landing in the desert? And why apparently did none of the crew survive?

Ruford L. Moore, Portsmouth, Ohio, father of one of the crewmen, said he received a letter in 1946 from the War Department, saying the plane was returning from the bombing mission when it lost radio contact with its base and was presumed down in the Mediterranean. Did the crew bail out over the sea for some reason while the plane flew on safely to the south?

The Pentagon identified the plane from its serial numbers. It released Friday night the names of the crewmen and their next of kin.

In spite of the passage of time, relatives of all nine crewmen were reached Friday night. They said they had been notified by the War Department in 1943 that their loved ones were missing in action. A year later they were told they had been killed.

For 16 years the plane rested there and was seen by no one. Or, if some desert nomad came across it, he told no authority. It was found a short time ago by a team of exploring geologists.

The U.S. Air Force sent a plane crew to see the wreck and photograph it from the air. And it is sending experts overland to examine it more closely.

Among those aboard the plane, with next of kin as listed by the Pentagon, were:

2nd Lt. John S. Woravka; brother, Alex C. Woravka, (10619 Reserve Ave.) Cleveland, Ohio. The brother said the lieutenant had been reported missing in action April 4, 1943.

Vernon L. Moore; father, Ruford V. Moore, of New Boston, Ohio. Father now living in Portsmouth, Ohio, told of the 1946 letter from the War Department. The name of the crewman had been given out by the Pentagon as Vernon Ford.

Deflated, the entire craft can be packed in a space the size of a wheelbarrow bed. Bottled air is used to inflate it, with the engine supplying air after it has started.

Lindbergh Backer Dies at Age of 52

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An aviation pioneer who helped get Charles A. Lindbergh off the ground and pointed toward Paris died Friday of a heart attack.

Robertson, one of four brothers who pioneered in aviation here, was one of the backers of Lindbergh's historic 1927 flight across the Atlantic to Paris.

Truck Driver Wounded in Separate Clash

Fatal Shooting Comes
After Sniper Resists
Arrest by Patrolman

HAZARD, Ky. (AP) — A coal miner was killed and a nonunion truck driver wounded Friday in two separate shooting incidents in eastern Kentucky's strike-torn coal fields.

The miner, Bobby Jenkins Jr., 25, was shot by a state trooper attempting to arrest him for shooting at another nonunion trucker.

The killing was the third in the bitter strike over United Mine Workers demands for a 1959 contract.

Earlier Friday several hundred sniper bullets whistled from the hills at nearby Sassafras into a group of about 15 truckers unloading at the nonunion Joe Romeo coal ramp.

AMERICAN MYSTERY SHIP FOUND IN DESERT — U. S. Air Force investigators in Wiesbaden, Germany, are planning an expedition into the heart of the Libyan desert to a spot where this American World War II B-24 Liberator bomber has lain untouched and forgotten for 16 years. The bomber, damaged but intact, was discovered by an oil company geological team near the oasis of Kufra, 380 miles south of Benghazi. Flight gear and clothing still hang in their original places inside the plane. Guns, ammunition and logbooks are untouched. Why did the B-24 glide in for a belly landing in 1943? What happened to the crew?

Bomber in Desert Poses Mystery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Sahara Desert has cast up a mystery as deep and baffling as any recorded in the annals of the seas.

A World War II B24 bomber which had a crew of nine has been found in the waterless waste of Libya, 380 miles south of Benghazi.

It was last seen 16 years ago when it took off from a Libyan base for a bombing raid on Naples, Italy.

The bomber lies there on the sand, scarcely damaged, preserved almost perfectly in the hot, arid desert air. Its radio still is in working order.

There is not a trace of the crewmen who flew off on that mission in 1943. No clothing, no written records.

Water bottles, presumably tightly capped, were found still filled in the cabin of the plane. Had the crew crash-landed in the desert and started to walk out to civilization, surely they would have taken all available water with them.

If they had been killed in the landing which caused so little damage to the plane, their remains would be there.

Did the crew all bail out somewhere else, as the Pentagon thinks is likely? Then how did the plane fly on for hundreds of miles to let down in a soft landing in the desert? And why apparently did none of the crew survive?

Ruford L. Moore, Portsmouth, Ohio, father of one of the crewmen, said he received a letter in 1946 from the War Department, saying the plane was returning from the bombing mission when it lost radio contact with its base and was presumed down in the Mediterranean. Did the crew bail out over the sea for some reason while the plane flew on safely to the south?

The Pentagon identified the plane from its serial numbers. It released Friday night the names of the crewmen and their next of kin.

In spite of the passage of time, relatives of all nine crewmen were reached Friday night. They said they had been notified by the War Department in 1943 that their loved ones were missing in action. A year later they were told they had been killed.

For 16 years the plane rested there and was seen by no one. Or, if some desert nomad came across it, he told no authority. It was found a short time ago by a team of exploring geologists.

The U.S. Air Force sent a plane crew to see the wreck and photograph it from the air. And it is sending experts overseas to examine it more closely.

Among those aboard the plane, with next of kin as listed by the Pentagon, were:

2nd Lt. John S. Woravka; brother, Alex C. Woravka, (10919 Revere Ave.) Cleveland, Ohio. The brother said the lieutenant had been reported missing in action April 4, 1943.

Vernon L. Moore; father, Ruford V. Moore, of New Boston, Ohio. Father now living in Portsmouth, Ohio, told of the 1946 letter from the War Department. The name of the crewman had been given out by the Pentagon as Vernon Ford.

Atlanta Ordered To Halt Segregation in Schools

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta school officials have been ordered to stop operating segregated public schools and to present a plan for integration within a reasonable time.

The U.S. District Court ruling Friday said segregated schools are illegal but it did not set a specific date for the end of segregation in Georgia's largest school system.

Judge Frank A. Hooper indicated that any final order would not mean integration next September in Atlanta, seat of the government of one of the very few states without integration at any public educational level.

The decision brought a step nearer the showdown on whether Atlanta's schools will be integrated or closed. Under state law any school ordered integrated would automatically lose state funds and could be shut down by the governor.

Hooper specifically granted an injunction sought by 10 Negro parents of 27 children asking an end to public school segregation in the city.

In a statement issued at the end of the day-long hearing, the judge said his final order would cover these three points:

1. That racial discrimination has and does exist in Atlanta's schools.

2. That the plaintiffs would be granted an injunction prohibiting the Atlanta Board of Education from operating public schools on a segregated basis.

3. That the Atlanta school officials would be allowed a reasonable time to submit a plan for integration.

B. D. Murphy, leading counsel for the Board of Education, said after the decision that "it's my guess the ruling will be appealed."

Other defendants declined comment.

Atlanta now has about 70,000 white pupils and 31,000 Negroes in a system enrolling about 10 per cent of all the state's school-age children.

Insect Alerts

STORED GRAIN

Now is the time to look for insects in wheat or shelled corn that was carried over the winter. It is necessary to fumigate with carbon tetrachloride - carbon disulfide (80-20), or ethylene dichloride-carbon tetrachloride (75-25) in order to eliminate existing infestations. Fumigate when the air temperature is 70 degrees F or above.

Now is also a good time to clean up storages for the new crop. Pockets of old grain in bins, wagon beds, loaders, and old spilled grain, or forgotten grain in sacks are the reservoirs of reinfestation. Hunt down, sweep up, and burn old grain and old grain dust.

TENT CATERPILLARS

Tent caterpillars will become conspicuous soon. They are troublesome on both fruit and shade trees and as they get older will migrate from abandoned orchards and wild cherry trees. The regular spray program should eliminate these pests from orchards. Maltion or DDT is effective for backyard trees, using a spray that will penetrate the tents.

Loose Smut Hits Pickaway Wheat

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Those black appearing heads of wheat are infected with loose smut. Many fields of this have been observed by me this spring and several calls have been made to the office.

Loose smut of wheat is commonly known simply as "smut" or blackhead. As soon as the wheat heads out, smut is very noticeable. The diseased heads are almost completely destroyed by the smut. The spores are easily shaken from the smutted heads and may be carried for long distances by wind and insects.

These spores lodge in the flowers of healthy plants. Here the spores germinate and develop infection in the young wheat kernel. When mature, infected kernels cannot be distinguished from smut free kernels. If this wheat is then used for seed next year's crop.

Because loose smut fungus is carried inside the seed it is necessary to apply a treatment that will penetrate the seed and kill the fungus. Surface treatments such as Acreasan that is used for control of stinking smut and flag smut does not control loose smut.

The hot water treatment only is effective against loose smut. If the treatment is properly applied, the heat penetrates the seed and kills the dormant fungus without killing the wheat germ. Some control can be obtained by growing resistant varieties of wheat.

State Senator Says He Will Pay Bill For Using Airplane

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. Ray T. Miller Jr. (D-Cuyahoga) says if billed, he will pay for the use of an Ohio Air National Guard plane that flew him and other legislators to Cleveland.

The adjutant general's office said an investigation of the flight will be made and a report sent to the National Guard Bureau in Washington.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer reported that Miller and four other legislators, plus the Senate clerk, made the trip Tuesday to vote in the annual election of a fraternal organization in which Miller was a candidate for office.

Adj. Gen. Loren G. Windom said that when Miller made arrangements for the Columbus-to-Cleveland (and return) flight, he was warned that any use of the twin-engine C47 transport other than for official business might mean the legislators would have to pay costs.

Fine Old Slate Roof Coved Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of the reasons the Leo Webers bought the house at 3257 E. 56th St. was that "We liked the old slate roof."

Today they have a brand new shingle roof and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kalina are still waiting for the new roof they ordered for their home down the street at 3267.

A roofing contractor's men put the roof on the wrong house.

The Webers have not yet moved from their former residence in Garfield Heights, and knew nothing about the new roof until the slate was already coved.

The contractor, J. Reese, is making it up to the Webers by hanging a porch and doing some work on the chimney.

Insect Alerts

STORED GRAIN

Now is the time to look for insects in wheat or shelled corn that was carried over the winter. It is necessary to fumigate with carbon tetrachloride - carbon disulfide (80-20), or ethylene dichloride-carbon tetrachloride (75-25) in order to eliminate existing infestations. Fumigate when the air temperature is 70 degrees F or above.

Now is also a good time to clean up storages for the new crop. Pockets of old grain in bins, wagon beds, loaders, and old spilled grain, or forgotten grain in sacks are the reservoirs of reinfestation. Hunt down, sweep up, and burn old grain and old grain dust.

TENT CATERPILLARS

Tent caterpillars will become conspicuous soon. They are troublesome on both fruit and shade trees and as they get older will migrate from abandoned orchards and wild cherry trees. The regular spray program should eliminate these pests from orchards. Malathion or DDT is effective for backyard trees, using a spray that will penetrate the tents.

Loose Smut Hits Pickaway Wheat

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

Those black appearing heads of wheat are infected with loose smut. Many fields of this have been observed by me this spring and several calls have been made to the office.

Loose smut of wheat is commonly known simply as "smut" or blackhead. As soon as the wheat heads out, smut is very noticeable. The diseased heads are almost completely destroyed by the smut. The spores are easily shaken from the smutted heads and may be carried for long distances by wind and insects.

These spores lodge in the flowers of healthy plants. Here the spores germinate and develop infection in the young wheat kernel. When mature, infected kernels cannot be distinguished from smut free kernels. If this wheat is then used for seed next year's crop.

Because loose smut fungus is carried inside the seed it is necessary to apply a treatment that will penetrate the seed and kill the fungus. Surface treatments such as Areasan that is used for control of stinking smut and flag smut does not control loose smut.

The hot water treatment only is effective against loose smut. If the treatment is properly applied, the heat penetrates the seed and kills the dormant fungus without killing the wheat germ. Some control can be obtained by growing resistant varieties of wheat.

State Senator Says He Will Pay Bill For Using Airplane

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. Ray T. Miller Jr. (D-Cuyahoga) says if billed, he will pay for the use of an Ohio Air National Guard plane that flew him and other legislators to Cleveland.

The adjutant general's office said an investigation of the flight will be made and a report sent to the National Guard Bureau in Washington.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer reported that Miller and four other legislators, plus the Senate clerk, made the trip Tuesday to vote in the annual election of a fraternal organization in which Miller was a candidate for office.

Adj. Gen. Loren G. Windom said that when Miller made arrangements for the Columbus-to-Cleveland (and return) flight, he was warned that any use of the twin-engine C47 transport other than for official business might mean the legislators would have to pay costs.

Fine Old Slate Roof Coved Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of the reasons the Leo Webers bought the house at 3257 E. 56th St. was that "we liked the old slate roof."

Today they have a brand new shingle roof and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kalina are still waiting for the new roof they ordered for their home down the street at 3267.

A roofing contractor's men put the roof on the wrong house.

The Webers have not yet moved from their former residence in Garfield Heights, and knew nothing about the new roof until the slate was already coved up.

The contractor, J. Reese, is making it up to the Webers by hanging a porch and doing some work on the chimney.

Policemen Get Fill Of Flower Questions

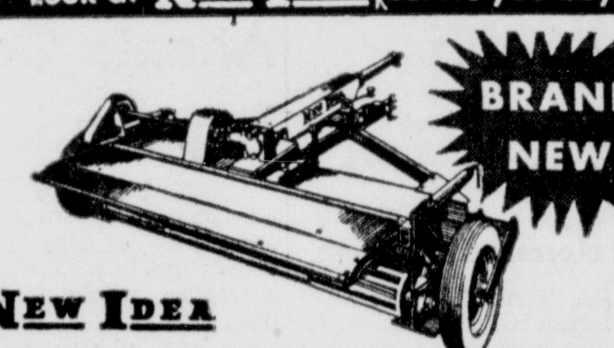

MAYWOOD, N.J. (AP)—Roses are red, violets are blue. But police here have had enough of flowers, thank you.

A week ago the local weekly newspaper advertised for persons with garden troubles to call the county agriculture extension service. But the ad carried the police phone number by mistake. About 150 persons called headquarters with horticultural complaints.

The police hope a correction in the paper will get them off the hook.

Ohio Senate Leader Sees DiSalle Plans Gaining Speed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Personalities won't block Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's tax increases, says Sen. Charles J. Carney (D-Mahoning).

"I think we will be in a position within a week or so to move the governor's program," the peppery No. 2 man in the Democrat-controlled Senate observes.

"This thing may jell awfully fast in spite of personalities," he adds.

Carney's outlook stems from a break in the five-man bloc headed by Sen. Ray T. Miller Jr. (D-Cuyahoga) that stalled key tax increases for weeks in the upper House.

Two of the five dissident Democrats broke ranks before weekend adjournment to help put over a Senate compromise boost in corporate franchise fees. The House, under tight party control, is ready to approve the change.

That leaves only a Senate-sponsored bill to increase sales taxes pending out of the major measures in DiSalle's program. But the franchise tax compromise and slashes in the sales tax bill still leaves the governor some 42 million dollars short of his goal.

Carney and Senate majority leader Frank W. King (D-Lucas) figure that Democrats can find the extra money without much difficulty.

"We can get it by changing the sales tax bill, increasing utility excise taxes or some other place," says Carney. King is less definite, but appears equally optimistic.

Already enacted or virtually through both houses are tax increases on cigarettes, 3.2 beer and pari-mutuel horse race betting. Bottle liquor prices were boosted early by administrative order. The additional revenue from those sources will go for general state operations.

Gasoline tax increases already in effect are earmarked for highways.

Altogether, the governor's tax program calls for an extra 360 million dollars in the next two years.

Republicans claim the state at best needs only half that much more money for adequate operation but they lack the votes to make cuts. They also blame personalities more than anything else for the tax delay.

"Since when did the Democrats worry about high taxes?" a Republican stalwart observed in commenting on the Democrat deadlock.

Republicans and dissident Democrats directed their fire at Carney.

"I have never seen such rough ramrod tactics," Sen. Lowell Fess (R-Greene) told the Senate. "I think the people of this state ought to know how this Legislature is being run."

Fess and Carney are members of the Senate Taxation Committee headed by Sen. Stephen R. Olenick (D - Mahoning). Carney sponsored committee changes in the corporate franchise tax bill that Fess said were ramrodded.

Members of the five-man bloc also made Carney their target in complaints to DiSalle that his tax program was too high.

But Carney says he has always plugged for better schools, highways, mental hospitals, old age pensions, welfare care and other things.

"I'd be a political hypocrite if I voted for them and then did not stand up for the money to pay for them," Carney explains. "I'd write a different program, but this is the program of the governor. I'm willing to vote for it and take the consequences."

"I think a lot of the explanations to the governor this week were rationalizations. King and I have been friends long before he was leader. We will be friends after this legislative session."

"There never was a battle between King and me for leader. I have tried to be loyal to Frank, the governor and the party."

Before the Legislature opened, Carney had enough support from Cleveland and Northeastern Ohio senators to become majority leader. But DiSalle intervened to have King selected. Both King and Carney are unionists.

King made Carney his right-hand man in the expectation of co-operation from Clevelanders. He named Carney chairman of the "blue ribbon" Senate State Government Committee. Pet administration bills are routed to that committee.

But King apparently was unaware that Ray T. Miller, Cuyahoga County Democrat chairman and father of Sen. Miller Jr., had lined up support for Carney under a plan to win support for Rep. James J. McGarrick (D-Cuyahoga) as House speaker.

Senators said the senior Miller told them the House was more important. Carney forces assured the Democrat county chairman that his support of Carney would gain enough votes to put McGarrick in. But when DiSalle intervened for King, the McGarrick move faltered and Rep. James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield) became speaker.

King admits he was warned that Carney might cause friction, yet he hoped to unite factions by making Carney chairman of the important Senate committee.

But the bloc headed by Sen. Mil-

TV Gunslingers Rush for Gold

Personal Appearance Tours Bring in Cash

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The gold rush is on, with TV's gunslingers heeding the cry, "go east, young man!"

This is the season for the Western stars to fill their pouches with loot from the hinterlands. They're heading east not by pony but by jet, to display themselves before admiring throngs at fairs, rodeos and whatever.

They sing a little, ride a little, tell jokes, rope and twirl their six-shooters. But mostly they just appear, smiling and signing autographs and basking in the popularity that television has brought them.

Figures released by the New Mexico State Fair Commission give evidence of the money to be had. Gene Barry (Bat Masterson) has been set for two appearances in one day at the September fair for $2,000; Dale Robertson (Wells Fargo) for six appearances in three days at $7,500. The Gunsmoke trio — Dennis Weaver, Amanda Blake, Milburn Stone — will come in for six appearances at $8,500.

Robert Horton (Wagon Train) is making hay this summer with such dates as the Cincinnati Rodeo, Tulsa Horse Show, as well as playing "Picnic" in Detroit and "Guys and Dolls" in Warren, Ohio. Chuck Connors and Young Johnny Crawford (The Rifleman) were booked for the St. Louis Police Circus and Omaha Rodeo.

Robert Culp (Trackdown) expects to earn $70,000 this year from personals, probably as much as he gets from the series. Among his dates: Lincoln, Neb., Centennial, Salina and Coffeyville, Kan.

Everett Beers, Chairman of the Pickaway County Chapter, American Red Cross, today reminded Pickaway County residents that the Bloodmobile will again be visiting the County on Monday.

It will be operating in the First Methodist Church basement from 11 a. m. till 5 p. m.

Chapter officials urged all residents who are able, to consider being donors this time. "It is vital to our community to continue this life saving program and it can only be continued if sufficient interest is shown," Chapter officials said.

Residents may show interest by calling GR 4-5736 for an appointment or mailing a card to the Red Cross office, 114 1/2 N. Court St.

"BLOOD IS A LIVING fluid: it cannot be manufactured in a laboratory or mined from the earth. Only from healthy people can we obtain this vital substance and on the people of every community can make the program work," Red Cross officials continued.

"A successful visit can mean that county physicians, Berger Hospital and other hospitals, where our residents may be hospitalized, can have the blood so urgently needed to save lives."

"Anyone — regardless of creed, color or financial status — may receive this blood and will not have to pay for it. The only charge ever made to any patient is that of the hospital for administering it."

The blood program sees to it that no one is allowed to give blood if his own health is endangered and no blood is ever used until it has passed rigid tests.

"Every person between the ages of 18 and 60 will have his chance to save a life, if he or she will act in the interest of the community and be a volunteer donor Monday. The need is urgent during these summer months," the local chapter said.

Carl Braley, Administrative Director of the Columbus Regional Blood Center said today it is absolutely essential that all mobile unit visits be brought up to the assigned quota and particularly not be allowed to fall below a very minimum production of 125 pints per operation.

During the months of March and April actual distribution of blood to the hospitals was 4,780 pints and 4,862 pints respectively. This is an average of 4,821 pints of blood per month or approximately 1200 bloods per week.

Each and every Chapter has a serious obligation to meet this minimum to protect the regional blood supply, the blood needs of their own hospitals, and protect the results of those chapters that are producing quota.

"It is most unfair and certainly very serious when a chapter producing quota must have its hospital's blood deliveries curtailed because other mobile unit visits failed to recruit sufficient donors."

"Your Center is anxious to supply the blood needs of all the hospitals as completely as possible. In order to continue to supply blood to the hospitals in the face of poor collections, we have borrowed 354 pints of blood from other Red Cross Centers since May 1st."

"We cannot, of course, continue to borrow at this high level as this blood must be repaid out of future collections," Braley said.

Chaplain Nellie Bumgarner read from 1st Corinthians, 15th verse. As the names were read from the roll by secretary Fern Lutz, Flora and Clara Creager placed the flowers on the altar.

Mrs. Louise Fisher sang "My Faith Looks Up To Thee" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." While all were in meditation, Mrs. La Donna Haspel read "Beyond the Sunset."

The program was in charge of the April refreshment committee and was opened with a piano solo by Martin Younkin.

A piano duet "Donkey Serenade" by Martin and Marilyn Younkin was enjoyed.

MRS. MABEL FISHER read several selections and the program ended with Mrs. H. O. Caldwell showing slides on Spain, Africa and India.

First and second degree work will be conferred on a class of candidates at the meeting Tuesday.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee for May with Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Caldwell as chairmen.

Those assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Runkle, Mrs. I. W. Millar, Mr. and Mrs. Loe Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Don Boone and Mrs. C. E. Wright.

Government Needs Black Ink

President Eisenhower has again mentioned the necessity for reducing the federal debt, and he intimated to Congress that it would be wise if that body left some of the anticipated revenue for fiscal year 1960 unspent, in order that it might be applied against the record federal deficit, now in the neighborhood of $285 billion.

This is going to be a difficult task, inasmuch as fiscal 1959 appears to be heading for a $10 billion deficit, and proposed spending levels in the coming year are consistently higher. The President's budget, as submitted to Congress, was precariously balanced to show a surplus of about $100 million—a surplus easily erased when considering appropriations of multiple billions of dollars.

In appropriation authorization bills which have passed Congress, little savings have been realized over the President's requests. To the contrary, many have exceeded the sum asked for. Even if revenue estimates are exceeded, as current surveys pleasantly indicate, it will take drastic reductions in coming appropriations to achieve a balanced budget in the year beginning July 1.

The President is wrong in asking for a reduction in the national debt—he should demand it. Approximately $8 billion annually now is being spent on interest on the national debt, or about 10 per cent of total federal expenditures. It is tragic to realize the federal government is now spending an amount each year—for no better purpose than to satisfy its creditors—which is equal to the total cost of the national government less than 20 years ago.

Is this record what Americans want to hand to their children 20 years hence, compounded many times over? It will be exactly that if strong leadership is not soon forthcoming to direct the nation away from complete fiscal irresponsibility.

The President, who has the power to exert that leadership, might begin by trimming back the expenditures which fall on his immediate doorstep. In comparing costs of the White House during the past three administrations, the House Appropriations Committee found they were $647,000 in 1938, $3 million in 1952—and $5.4 million requested for 1960.

In this 22-year period, the White House payroll has grown from 162 to 615 persons, an increase of almost 400 per cent.

Definite action by a person who recognizes and espouses the need for reform has a contagious effect upon those who agree passively. It will take a strong hand to return the operations of government to the credit side of the ledger after three decades of almost uninterrupted red ink bookkeeping.

There's nothing like a pair of slacks to reveal the stern facts about a woman.

Only Request of Pupils: Try

A thoughtful educator, voicing many an unspoken prayer, has observed that the fondest hope of any parent for his child is that he become "all that he is capable of being."

It is a timely thought, in this season of approaching graduation exercises, and one that should find a permanent place in the heart of every young student whose parents make willing sacrifices to see that he gets a good education.

To be all that one is capable of being is perhaps the highest goal man can set for himself. It admits of differences and limitations, but happily does not point them out. No man knows when his intellectual and moral growth will stop, the fact being that it never does, so long as he strives for more.

The striving, however, is something every parent has a right to expect from his child—something every young college-bound student owes to his parents.

If it starts at matriculation, and never stops, parental sacrifices will be repaid, rewarding goals will be achieved and, best of all, the better life will be assured.

Research Lengthens Life

Let us not be so sure to number the dead from cancer; there are always the living, those who have met the enemy, known its exactions and have overcome it.

According to Dr. Sidney Farber, professor of pathology at the Harvard Medical School, the cure rate of cancer has changed in the last three years from one in four to one in three as a result of medical research programs.

This is a high rate of cure and proves what study and research and knowledge can do. My own experience with cancer was quite simple. We discovered it and got it out. Of course, there is no guarantee that another cancer may not be forming elsewhere and one must recognize that he is not eternal.

What are you looking for, guarantees? It is enough that one can live a little longer, enjoy the company of those whom he loves for a longer period of time. Life cannot be guaranteed as there can be no security, no assurances of anything. Those who seek guarantees, seek more than can be given. It is enough that one knows that there are men and women who every day work to defeat this malignant thing that only lives to kill.

And those men and women also cannot guarantee that the very costly work that they are doing—costly in money, in time, in the lives of researchers—will bring success. They know by experience that when much work is done by skilled and competent people on research projects, something may come out of it. For instance, Dr. Farber told a Congressional committee.

"Within the past few weeks, at least five virus or viral agents derived from mice with leukemia and capable of causing leukemia in other mice have been shown to be productive of anti-body formation."

There it is. The beginning of a concept, namely, that there may be a connection between some forms of cancer and some kind of virus. It will take years before anything can be proved. Then it takes time to understand what was proved and what chemicals might be used to cure the disease. Then it will be found that the dosages are not quite right and that there are dangerous side effects. And then they will know exactly how to use the chemicals and they will be called, "wonder drugs," as, indeed, everything that saves our lives is a wonderful instrument if properly understood and used.

Many persons, particularly those who watch beloved ones suffer, urge speed. Why, they ask, if so much money is spent on research, is so little discovered? Impatient we all are, but the rate of those who do not die rises and that ought to mean much. It is sad, indeed, to see a beloved one die when the cure is just around the corner but that corner must be turned.

Both of the great killers have attacked me during the past three years, heart and cancer. For decades before that I never had any troubles beyond a cold and once a bad appendix. Then suddenly, my heart kicked up. And then a cancer appeared. I am feeling fine, thank you. Nor were the experiences too unpleasant.

The repair jobs are a bit rough, particularly the inconvenient of dieting and not smoking the wonderful Havana cigars to which I used to be addicted. However, I have had decades of great enjoyment and a rich life with the sin of gluttony the most usual of my errors.

What is there to complain about? Modern medical and chemotherapy research and modern surgery are keeping more of us alive longer than ever before and if we are so disposed, more happily. The National Cancer Institute has asked Congress for $110,000,000 this year. It is a trifle compared to what is wasted in this land on the exorbitant and really useless pleasures which passing, bring us to those years when aches and pains beset the Reaper is not far away.

What would we not at that moment give to send the Reaper away! Research will do it. The time may come when we shall live as long as Methuselah and when we shall learn to count our blessings and forget all else.

Leukemia Victory in Sight

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

The first major breakthrough in our battle to solve the cancer riddle may well be a victory over leukemia, the tragic blood disease which annually claims thousands of lives.

As a matter of fact, some doctors and scientists thought the leukemia problem had been licked a few years ago when cortisone and ACTH produced such dramatic remission of symptoms that it appeared at first that a cure had been found.

But, as has been the problem with so many drugs, patients eventually developed resistance to both hormonal preparations.

In leukemia there is a tremendous over-production of white blood cells. Sometimes the white blood cell count goes as high as 800,000 cells per cubic mm. In contrast, the white cell count of a normal, healthy person ranges between 7,000 to 12,000 cells per cubic mm.

Ordinarily, the bone marrow and lymph glands produce only as many white and red cells as the body needs. But in leukemia, the white cell production gets out of control.

Now these white cells do not mature and, hence, they are unable to fight off infection. As the number of white cells increases, the number of red cells decreases. The result is anemia.

Because the blood does not clot properly, patients may die from hemorrhage or infection.

Up until 1948 leukemia appeared to be a hopeless problem. We had no specific chemotherapeutic agents to combat the disease.

Half of the children stricken with leukemia died within four months after diagnosis of their illness. Ninety per cent were dead eleven months after diagnosis.

However, our weapons against leukemia have become much more potent in the last eleven years.

The year 1948 saw the turn of the tide with the introduction of antifolate agents. By blocking the use of folic acid, which leukemia cells need to live, these antifolate agents literally starve the disease cells.

With these—the previously mentioned cortisone and ACTH and other drugs—the survival time has been lengthened considerably. In a recent study at a Boston hospital, half of the 800 children treated for leukemia were still alive after fourteen months of treatment. The battle has not been won, but we certainly are gaining ground.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Those two Louisiana brothers, Gov. Earl K. Long and onetime Sen. Huey P. Long, had some things in common besides a thirst for power and the persuasiveness to get the people of the state to give it to them.

In a sense they were political primitives with passionate bursts of fury, unbelievable energy, roughness, toughness, profanity. They turned name-calling into a kind of art form.

The front page stories of Gov. Long's violent and vituperative screaming and shouting for more than an hour in the state Legislature last week may have shocked those with no schooling in Louisiana politics.

But the people of the state, particularly those friends and critics who urged him to seek medical care after his performance, were probably more disturbed by the length of what he did than by the nature of it.

They were used to it, but not to this degree. This time Long outdid himself. He seemed to know it for he went to a psychiatric hospital and is under observation there now.

If this is the end of his career, it is quieter than his brother's. Huey was assassinated in 1935. These brothers could win elections overwhelmingly. But both had big blocs of enemies. Many people hated Huey. Those familiar with the inside of recent Louisiana politics say many hate Earl, too.

This writer, who worked in Louisiana 14 years, knew both brothers and, although I met them years apart, the first meeting with each showed some of the similarity between them. What they said was not meant for the ears of little children.

In 1927, one week after I had found a job on the New Orleans Item-Tribune and before Huey Long had become nationally famous, the city editor told me to run down to a hotel and ask Long what he was doing in town. I asked who he was.

The city editor said: "Oh, he's just another one of those candidates for governor." What he didn't tell me was that Long and the Item-Tribune were nasty enemies. I went to the hotel, called Long on the house telephone. I told him I was a reporter from the Item-Tribune and wanted to see him.

He shouted into the phone: "A reporter from the Item-Tribune. I wouldn't talk to a reporter from that—newspaper if it was the last—newspaper in the world. That—newspaper is to newspaper work what the red light district is to the city."

Twelve years later, although I had seen Earl Long many times, I went to a downtown hotel to interview him for the first time. Gov. Richard Leche, overwhelmed by the developing Louisiana scandals at the time and soon to be sent to the penitentiary for his part in them, had just resigned and Earl Long, lieutenant governor, had succeeded him and was going to run for a full term on his own in the 1940 elections. I was then with The Associated Press, which took no sides in Louisiana politics. But I went to the hotel with a reporter from the Times-Picayune, which did, and which had been a foe of the Long machine for years. We knocked on Long's door.

He came out, glared at the Times-Picayune man, said: "Who are you? What do you want?" The reporter told him what paper he was from. Long let go at him and his newspaper in language which couldn't be printed but which made hilarious retelling when we got back to our offices.

Yet this writer followed Gov. Long around Louisiana in the bitter winter of 1939-40, when he was campaigning for a full term, which he didn't get, and his energy and endurance were fantastic.

He would start out to make a speech at 7 a. m. and wind up at midnight. He would travel all day through icy rain and talk in the cold and downpour without hat or overcoat. As I remember it, every other member of Long's ticket went down with influenza or pneumonia before election day. Not Long.

I never saw any rough stuff around Earl. But Huey walked the earth surrounded by men whom his friends called bodyguards. His critics called them gunmen. They made a hobby of beating up newspapermen. Once they fractured an Associated Press photographer's skull with a blackjack.

In the end they weren't able to save Long from what he dreaded most: sudden death.

GERMANY: Free and East (Communist) divisions.

BERLIN: Allied and East (Communist) divisions.

THIS IS WHAT they're arguing about in Geneva. The west wants free elections to determine the future of both Berlin and East Germany. Of Berlin, at least. The Soviet says "no" to any such relaxation of its grip. If worst comes to worst—turning over of government of East Berlin to the East German Communists and shutting off of the west's access to the city—those air routes might again be traffic jammed with supply planes.

Lady Lawyer 'Helps' convict; She Ups and Marries Him

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP)—The first time lawyer Marjorie Sue King visited client Emory N. Brown in federal prison, an assistant warden told her:

"There is no need for you to go see Emory Brown; there's nothing you can do for him now."

"He was so wrong," said Miss King here this week.

That was after the 35-year-old Atlanta attorney had married ex-convict Brown, 38, at the home of a judge here.

The romance began six years ago in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. Brown was sentenced March 24, 1947 at Tampa, Fla., to 20 years in prison for bank robbery, five years for taking a stolen car across a state line and six months for contempt of court. All three charges grew out of the $9,000 holdup of a bank at Lake Alfred, Fla., in 1945.

After pleading unsuccessfully to have the sentence set aside, Brown hired Miss King, a member of an Atlanta law firm. Miss King frequently visited Brown in the prison and they fell in love.

In 1955, Brown was transferred to the federal prison here. He enrolled in a law course taught by Dist. Judge Joseph J. Dawes of Leavenworth.

Once he told the judge: "When I get out I'm going to get married. I would like you to perform the ceremony."

Dawes agreed but he had forgotten about it until Monday when Brown and Miss King showed up at the courthouse a few hours after Brown's release from prison. The judge waived Kansas' three-day waiting period and performed the wedding ceremony.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Ralph King, and one of her law partners, Marie Leachman, witnessed the wedding.

Thursday, the couple began a honeymoon trip in a new, expensive auto. It was the bride's wedding present to her husband.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those two Louisiana brothers, Gov. Earl K. Long and onetime Sen. Huey P. Long, had some things in common besides a thirst for power and the persuasiveness to get the people of the state to give it to them.

In a sense they were political primitives with passionate bursts of fury, unbelievable energy, roughness, toughness, profanity. They turned name-calling into a kind of art form.

The front page stories of Gov. Long's violent and vituperative screaming and shouting for more than an hour in the state Legislature last week may have shocked those with no schooling in Louisiana politics.

But the people of the state, particularly those friends and critics who urged him to seek medical care after his performance, were probably more disturbed by the length of what he did than by the nature of it.

They were used to it, but not to this degree. This time Long outdid himself. He seemed to know it for he went to a psychiatric hospital and is under observation there now.

If this is the end of his career, it is quieter than his brother's. Huey was assassinated in 1935. These brothers could win elections overwhelmingly. But both had big blocs of enemies. Many people hated Huey. Those familiar with the inside of recent Louisiana politics say many hate Earl, too.

This writer, who worked in Louisiana 14 years, knew both brothers and, although I met them years apart, the first meeting with each showed some of the similarity between them. What they said was not meant for the ears of little children.

In 1927, one week after I had found a job on the New Orleans Item-Tribune and before Huey Long had become nationally famous, the city editor told me to run down to a hotel and ask Long what he was doing in town. I asked who he was.

The city editor said: "Oh, he's just another one of those candidates for governor." What he didn't tell me was that Long and the Item-Tribune were nasty enemies. I went to the hotel, called Long on the house telephone. I told him I was a reporter from the Item-Tribune and wanted to see him.

He shouted into the phone: "A reporter from the Item-Tribune. I wouldn't talk to a reporter from that — newspaper if it was the last — newspaper in the world. That — newspaper is to newspaper work what the red light district is to the city."

Twelve years later, although I had seen Earl Long many times, I went to a downtown hotel to interview him for the first time. Gov. Richard Leche, overwhelmed by the developing Louisiana scandals at the time and soon to be sent to the penitentiary for his part in them, had just resigned and Earl Long, lieutenant governor, had succeeded him and was going to run for a full term on his own in the 1940 elections. I was then with The Associated Press, which took no sides in Louisiana politics. But I went to the hotel with a reporter from the Times-Picayune, which did, and which had been a foe of the Long machine for years. We knocked on Long's door.

He came out, glared at the Times-Picayune man, said: "Who are you? What do you want?" The reporter told him what paper he was from. Long let go at him and his newspaper in language which couldn't be printed but which made hilarious retelling when we got back to our offices.

Yet this writer followed Gov. Long around Louisiana in the bitter winter of 1939-40, when he was campaigning for a full term, which he didn't get, and his energy and endurance were fantastic.

He would start out to make a speech at 7 a. m. and wind up at midnight. He would travel all day through icy rain and talk in the cold and downpour without hat or overcoat. As I remember it, every other member of Long's ticket went down with influenza or pneumonia before election day. Not Long.

I never saw any rough stuff around Earl. But Huey walked the earth surrounded by men whom his friends called bodyguards. His critics called them gunmen. They made a hobby of beating up newspapermen. Once they fractured an Associated Press photographer's skull with a blackjack.

In the end they weren't able to save Long from what he dreaded most: sudden death.

GERMANY: Free and East (Communist) divisions.

BERLIN: Allied and East (Communist) divisions.

THIS IS WHAT they're arguing about in Geneva. The west wants free elections to determine the future of both Berlin and East Germany. Of Berlin, at least. The Soviet says "no" to any such relaxation of its grip. If worst comes to worst—turning over of government of East Berlin to the East German Communists and shutting off of the west's access to the city—those air routes might again be traffic jammed with supply planes. Lady Lawyer 'Helps' convict; She Ups and Marries Him

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP) — The first time lawyer Marjorie Sue King visited client Emory N. Brown in federal prison, an assistant warden told her:

"There is no need for you to go see Emory Brown; there's nothing you can do for him now."

"He was so wrong," said Miss King here this week.

That was after the 35-year-old Atlanta attorney had married ex-convict Brown, 38, at the home of a judge here.

The romance began six years ago in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. Brown was sentenced March 24, 1947 at Tampa, Fla., to 20 years in prison for bank robbery, five years for taking a stolen car across a state line and six months for contempt of court. All three charges grew out of the $9,000 holdup of a bank at Lake Alfred, Fla., in 1945.

After pleading unsuccessfully to have the sentence set aside, Brown hired Miss King, a member of an Atlanta law firm. Miss King frequently visited Brown in the prison and they fell in love.

In 1955, Brown was transferred to the federal prison here. He enrolled in a law course taught by Dist. Judge Joseph J. Dawes of Leavenworth.

Once he told the judge: "When I get out I'm going to get married. I would like you to perform the ceremony."

Dawes agreed but he had forgotten about it until Monday when Brown and Miss King showed up at the courthouse a few hours after Brown's release from prison. The judge waived Kansas' three-day waiting period and performed the wedding ceremony.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Ralph King, and one of her law partners, Marie Leachman, witnessed the wedding.

Thursday, the couple began a honeymoon trip in a new, expensive auto. It was the bride's wedding present to her husband.

Bridal Beauty

READY TO be a sleeping beauty, she conceals curlers under lacy nylon tricot cap.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Wedding bells ring in the shining hours of a day to remember. It's one no bride ever forgets—not should she.

Radiant and lovely, she is beautiful, as all brides are. This is how she should remain as her romance goes on happily-ever-after.

the right answer

Ed Jones asked me to go fishing with him last Sunday morning and when I said I was going to church he asked, "WHY?" For a moment, I was stymied. I just couldn't think of a good answer. Matter of fact, it has taken me all week to think of the reply I want to give Ed. Here it is.

Why do I go to church, Ed? Why do I breathe? Why do I smile when I see the sun in the morning, or shiver when I'm cold? Why do I love my wife and kids, and lose my temper when the lawn mower breaks down? Because I'm human, because I'm a man — and because I have a God whom I love. This God cares enough about me to have sent His only Son to make the most supreme of all sacrifices — for me, and for you, Ed Jones, and for all of us.

I go to church to worship that God. I do not go to beg, but to thank Him for what He has given me. I go to ask Him for guidance and forgiveness. I don't have to ask Him for His love. I have that. So have you. So have we all.

Rowland Top Hitter, Pitcher For SCO Champion Tigers

Pitcher - second baseman Don Rowland walked off with hurling and hitting honors for the South Central Ohio League champion Circleville High School baseball nine this season.

The CHS senior athlete compiled a .354 batting average and posted a splendid pitching record of 10 wins and no losses. When he wasn't working on the mound, he handled duties at second base.

The veteran Tiger baseball and basketball player played a big part in leading Coach Dick Fisher's squad to a 16-4 record which included the South Central Ohio League crown and three wins in the Central District Class AA Tournament.

Rowland's hitting performance was the result of 17 hits in 48 official trips to the plate. Two of his singles went for doubles and he scored 15 runs for the season.

In ALL the Tigers had four slingers who went over the .300 mark. Catcher Harry Strawser was close behind Rowland with a .346 average. Centerfielder Rich Greenlee tagged the ball for a .327 mark and outfielder Jake Bailey accumulated a .322 percentage.

position for Coach Fisher, collected 18 hits in 52 official trips and scored 15 times. Two of his blows went for triples and two were good for doubles.

Greenlee, noted for his ability to hit the long ball, smacked 18 safeties and reached home plate 14 times. He connected for one triple and three doubles during the season.

Bailey, breaking into the starting lineup shortly after the season started, had 10 hits in 31 trips. He scored 14 runs and one of his hits was a two-bagger.

Shortstop Cal Ellis, ending the season with a .276 batting average, earned honors in the scoring department with a total of 20. The flashy infielder collected 18 hits in 65 appearances.

Pitcher Joe Adkins chalked up four wins and three losses, Bob

Caudill won one and lost none and Duane Dean hurled for one victory and one defeat.

THE Tigers compiled an excellent record of nine wins and one loss in South Central Ohio League play. The loss was an 8-7 decision at the hands of Wilmington.

The season proved to be a successful debut for Coach Fisher who was at the baseball helm here for the first time. Next season he probably will face a rebuilding job in that most of his starters this season were seniors.

General Electric Gains Split In Night Softball Loop Play

General Electric, playing two games in the local night softball league last night, upset the Cleveland Merchants, 2-1, but lost to Laurelville, 9-5, in the second contest.

Both GE and the Merchants collected three hits, but GE took better advantage to score two runs in the second inning. The losers scored their single marker in the sixth.

Bill Cook and Sandy Hill hurled for the Merchants, with Cook absorbing the loss. Bill McKenney, fanning four and walking two, picked up the win for GE.

The only extra-base blow of the test was a double by GE's Bob Callahan.

GE took a 2-1 lead in the second inning of the second game, but fell before a Laurelville assault which produced three runs in the third and three in the fourth. The winners added two more in the sixth and GE tallied one in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Veteran Harry Strawser worked on the mound for Laurelville, permitting four hits, fanning five and walking two. Pool and McKenney hurled for GE, with Pool being charged with the defeat.

Monday's schedule calls for the Circleville Merchants to meet Laurelville and Stonerocks' TV to take on Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Temple Finds Heavier Bat Brings Homers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Johnny Temple says that one of the best ideas he ever had was to start using a heavier bat—40 ounces.

"I'm not built like a professional football tackle," said the Cincinnati Redleg infielder. "The lighter bats weren't doing a thing for me."

"The opposition moved their outfielders in on me until I could see the whites of their eyes."

And the little second baseman is beginning to hit home runs. He hit his third Friday night against San Francisco.

With another homer by his double play mate, Roy McMillan, and eight other hits, Cincinnati defeated the Giants 7-2.

Temple said that with the heavier bat, "I just try to meet the ball wherever it's pitched."

The heavier bat hasn't cut down his efficiency at the plate. He's currently right behind Vada Pinson as the Reds' second best hitter with a .322 average.

Don Newcombe got a big share of credit in Friday night's Redleg victory, throttling the Giants on three hits.

The most damaging blow was Willie Kirkland's home run in the sixth inning that tied the score, 1-1.

Newk tied in the ninth. After walking Kirkland, he gave up a single to Orlando Cepeda and let a run score on a wild pitch. But he pulled himself together and closed out the game.

Big Newk Shows Signs of Regaining Old Pitching Form

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Big Don Newcombe, once the best pitcher in baseball, finally is on his "way back."

It was Newk who won the first Cy Young Award and the National League's Most Valuable Player Award with 27 victories in 1956 for Brooklyn's last pennant-winning club. But the last two years, and the start of this season, were nightmares for the proud right-hander.

He had only an 11-12 record in 1957. Last year it was worse, 7-13 at the end of a season in which he had been traded by the Los Angeles Dodgers to Cincinnati.

This spring, after he finally admitted he had been bothered by arm and shoulder trouble, it looked like more of the same after he lost his first three decisions.

Now Newk's won four straight, putting away a 5-4 record Friday night by checking San Francisco's slugger Giants 7-2 on three hits.

The defeat left the second-place Giants 2½ games behind Milwaukee, beaten 5-1 by Dodgers. The Chicago Cubs beat Pittsburgh's third-place Pirates, who had won six straight, 10-5. The St. Louis Cardinals beat Philadelphia 7-2.

Newcombe, a few days shy of his 33rd birthday, had a one-hit shutout for five innings in a duel with left-hander Johnny Antonelli, a long-time foe. Willie Kirkland's home run gave the Giants a 1-1 tie in the sixth, but the Reds, held to one run—on Roy McMillan's homer—and two hits for five innings, then chased Antonelli with five runs in the sixth.

Stocky Johnny Podres won his fourth straight for the Dodgers with a seven-hitter at Milwaukee. Dale Long homered in a three-run first inning for the Cubs and Ernie Banks hit a two-run homer, his 13th, as Chicago put it away against Vern Law (5-3) in a four-run second.

The joke was good while it lasted, but it's the New York Yankees, no longer the stumbling, cellar-dwelling world champions, who are having the laugh now.

Laugh? They're roaring, so to speak, and the rest of the American League is discovering it was a mistake not to throw dirt in on the champs when they had 'em in a hole.

After winning eight of their last 10 games, the champs have shot within 4½ games of the top. They nailed their third straight victory Friday night with an 11-1 romp at Cleveland as the Indians dropped their sixth straight.

The Indians led the league by two games when the skid started. Now they're 1½ games behind Chicago's leading White Sox, who defeated Boston 5-2, and are in a virtual tie for second with the Baltimore Orioles, who won 6-1 at Kansas City.

Detroit took fifth place from ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—A race car smashed into the bleachers, injuring 22 persons among a crowd of 500 at a small dirt track Friday night. The accident occurred during the first race on the program, for a purse of $10.

One of those injured seriously was Ronnie Lee Neidel, 8, son of the wrecked car's driver, Albert M. (Bud) Neidel, 30.—St. Joseph.

The father suffered a bruised shoulder and shock. Of the 22 injured, 21 were hospitalized. Many were children.

Neidel's modified stock car and one driven by Jerry Hayes, Topeka, Kan., sideswiped on a turn of the quarter-mile Beverly Speedway while doing about 70 m.p.h.

Neidel's car shot off the banked turn, over an eight-foot embankment and fence. It did a half-spiral in the air and smashed into the bleachers upside down.

The car slid along the bottom row of seats, sweeping spectators before it.

Washington by beating the Senators 7-6, skidding the Nats to seventh as the Yankees muscled into sixth in the jam-packed run on the leaders.

The Yankees swung for 17 hits six for extra bases, against loser Gary Bell (4-5) and three relievers. Gil McDougald hit his first home run of the season and Elston Howard his seventh.

A three-run, pinch double by Harry Simpson broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth for the White Sox. Gerry Staley was the winner in relief of Early Wynn.

Gus Triandos' 12th home run sewed it up for the Orioles, just .003 percentage points behind Cleveland, in the third inning against Ned Garver (4-4).

A single by Al Kaline won it for the Tigers in the ninth, scoring ex-Senator Eddie Yost.

Stuart Confident Of More Homers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Give him an opportunity and Dick Stuart of the Pittsburgh Pirates says he'll continue hitting 457-foot home runs or reasonable facsimiles anyhow.

Stuart was referring to his classic blast over the center field wall Friday night against the Chicago Cubs.

Pittsburgh lost the game 10-5, but Stuart made history. It was the first time in the 50-year history of Forbes Field that anyone had hit a ball over this point of the wall, the farthest distance from home plate.

Stuart's blast came in the first inning off Cub starter Glen Hobbie. It drove in two runs and was his seventh round-tripper of the season.

Merchants Host Mosaic Tile Nine

The Circleville Merchants softball nine will entertain Zanesville Mosaic Tile in an Eastern Ohio Fastball League doubleheader to night at Ted Lewis Park.

Marine Sets Mark For Javelin Throw

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — Unheralded Al Cantello of the U.S. Marine Corps bettered the world record in the javelin throw Friday night at the 20th annual Compton Invitational Relays.

Cantello threw the spear 282 3/4 inches. The mark surpassed the recognized world record of 281-2 1/2 set in the 1956 Olympics by Egil Danielsen of Norway.

The javelin was weighed and found to be regulation. But it was impounded for a still further weighing before an application for recognition is filed.

The Texas quartet of Wally Wilson, Drew Dunlap, Hollis Gainey and Eddie Southern swept the mile relay in 3:08.7, breaking the intercollegiate mark of 3:09.1 set by a Texas team last year.

position for Coach Fisher, collected 18 hits in 52 official trips and scored 15 times. Two of his blows went for triples and two were good for doubles.

Greenlee, noted for his ability to hit the long ball, smacked 18 safeties and reached home plate 14 times. He connected for one triple and three doubles during the season.

Bailey, breaking into the starting lineup shortly after the season started, had 10 hits in 31 trips. He scored 14 runs and one of his hits was a two-bagger.

Shortstop Cal Ellis, ending the season with a .276 batting average, earned honors in the scoring department with a total of 20. The flashy infielder collected 18 hits in 65 appearances.

Pitcher Joe Adkins chalked up four wins and three losses, Bob

Caudill won one and lost none and Duane Dean hurled for one victory and one defeat.

The Tigers compiled an excellent record of nine wins and one loss in South Central Ohio League play. The loss was an 8-7 decision at the hands of Wilmington.

The season proved to be a successful debut for Coach Fisher who was at the baseball helm here for the first time. Next season he probably will face a rebuilding job in that most of his starters this season were seniors.

General Electric Gains Split In Night Softball Loop Play

General Electric, playing two games in the local night softball league last night, upset the Cleveland Merchants, 2-1, but lost to Laurelville, 9-5, in the second contest.

Both GE and the Merchants collected three hits, but GE took better advantage to score two runs in the second inning. The losers scored their single marker in the sixth.

Bill Cook and Sandy Hill hurled for the Merchants, with Cook absorbing the loss. Bill McKenney, fanning four and walking two, picked up the win for GE.

The only extra-base blow of the test was a double by GE's Bob Callahan.

GE took a 2-1 lead in the second inning of the second game, but fell before a Laurelville assault which produced three runs in the third and three in the fourth. The winners added two more in the sixth and GE tallied one in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Veteran Harry Strawser worked on the mound for Laurelville, permitting four hits, fanning five and walking two. Pool and McKenney hurled for GE, with Pool being charged with the defeat.

Monday's schedule calls for the Circleville Merchants to meet Laurelville and Stonerock's TV to take on Veterans of foreign Wars.

Racing Car Rips Bleachers, Hurts Driver and His Son

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—A race car smashed into the bleachers, injuring 22 persons among a crowd of 500 at a small dirt track Friday night. The accident occurred during the first race on the program, for a purse of $10.

One of those injured seriously was Ronnie Lee Neidel, 8, son of the wrecked car's driver, Albert M. (Bud) Neidel, 30, St. Joseph. The father suffered a bruised shoulder and shock. Of the 22 injured, 21 were hospitalized. Many were children.

Neidel's modified stock car and one driven by Jerry Hayes, Topeka, Kan., sideswiped on a turn of the quarter-mile Beverly Speedway while doing about 70 m.p.h.

Neidel's car shot off the banked turn, over an eight-foot embankment and fence. It did a half-flip in the air and smashed into the bleachers upside down.

The car slid along the bottom row of seats, sweeping spectators before it.

Big Newk Shows Signs of Regaining Old Pitching Form

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Big Don Newcombe, once the best pitcher in baseball, finally is on his way back.

It was Newk who won the first Cy Young Award and the National League's Most Valuable Player Award with 27 victories in 1956 for Brooklyn's last pennant-winning club. But the last two years, and the start of this season, were nightmares for the proud right-hander.

He had only an 11-12 record in 1957. Last year it was worse, 7-13 at the end of a season in which he had been traded by the Los Angeles Dodgers to Cincinnati.

This spring, after he finally admitted he had been bothered by arm and shoulder trouble, it looked like more of the same after he lost his first three decisions.

Now Newk's won four straight, putting away a 5-4 record Friday night by checking San Francisco's slugging Giants 7-2 on three hits.

The defeat left the second-place Giants 2 1/2 games behind Milwaukee, beaten 5-1 by Dodgers. The Chicago Cubs beat Pittsburgh's third-place Pirates, who had won six straight, 10-5. The St. Louis at Philadelphia game was rained out.

Newcombe, a few days shy of his 33rd birthday, had a one-hit shutout for five innings in a duel with left-hander Johnny Antonelli, a long-time foe. Willie Kirkland's home run gave the Giants a 1-1 tie in the sixth, but the Reds, held to one run—on Roy McMillan's homer—and two hits for five innings, then chased Antonelli with five runs in the sixth.

Stocky Johnny Podres won his fourth straight for the Dodgers with a seven-hitter at Milwaukee.

Dale Long homered in a three-run first inning for the Cubs and Ernie Banks hit a two-run homer, his 13th, as Chicago put it away against Vern Law (5-3) in a four-run second.

The joke was good while it lasted, but it's the New York Yankees, no longer the stumbling, cellar-dwelling world champions, who are having the laugh now.

Laugh? They're roaring, so to speak, and the rest of the American League is discovering it was a mistake not to throw dirt in on the champs when they had 'em in a hole.

After winning eight of their last 10 games, the champs have shot within 4 1/2 games of the top. They nailed their third straight victory Friday night with an 11-1 romp at Cleveland as the Indians dropped their sixth straight.

The Indians led the league by two games when the skid started. Now they're 1 1/2 games behind Chicago's leading White Sox, who defeated Boston 5-2, and are in a virtual tie for second with the Baltimore Orioles, who won 6-1 at Kansas City.

Detroit took fifth place from

Washington by beating the Senators 7-6, skidding the Nats to seventh as the Yankees muscled into sixth in the jam-packed run on the leaders.

The Yankees swung for 17 hits six for extra bases, against loser Gary Bell (4-5) and three relievers. Gil McDougald hit his first home run of the season and Elston Howard his seventh.

A three-run, pinch double by Harry Simpson broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth for the White Sox. Gerry Staley was the winner in relief of Early Wynn.

Gus Triandos' 12th home run sewed it up for the Orioles, just .003 percentage points behind Cleveland, in the third inning against Ned Garver (4-4).

A single by Al Kaline won it for the Tigers in the ninth, scoring ex-senator Eddie Yost.

Stuart Confident Of More Homers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Give him an opportunity and Dick Stuart of the Pittsburgh Pirates says he'll continue hitting 457-foot home runs or reasonable facsimiles anyhow.

Stuart was referring to his classic blast over the center field wall Friday night against the Chicago Cubs.

Pittsburgh lost the game 10-5, but Stuart made history. It was the first time in the 50-year history of Forbes Field that anyone had hit a ball over this point of the wall, the farthest distance from home plate.

Stuart's blast came in the first inning off Cub starter Glen Hobbie. It drove in two runs and was his seventh round-tripper of the season.

Marine Sets Mark For Javelin Throw

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — Unheralded Al Cantello of the U.S. Marine Corps bettered the world record in the javelin throw Friday night at the 20th annual Compton Invitational Relays.

Cantello threw the spear 282 3/4 inches. The mark surpassed the recognized world record of 281-2 1/2 set in the 1956 Olympics by Egil Danielsen of Norway. The javelin was weighed and found to be regulation. But it was impounded for a still further weighing before an application for recognition is filed.

The Texas quartet of Wally Wilson, Drew Dunlap, Hollis Gainey and Eddie Southern swept the mile relay in 3:08.7, breaking the intercollegiate mark of 3:09.1 set by a Texas team last year.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear Son and Brother, Donald Eugene Sahr, who departed this life June 4, 1959. You left us so quickly. I was such a sudden blow and what it meant to lose you no one will ever know. The world may change from year to year and friends from day to day. But the memory of your loving smile will never fade away. Sadly missed by Father, Mother, and Sister. 130

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear Son and Brother, Donald Eugene Salter, who departed this life June 6, 1959. You left us so quickly. I was such a sudden blow, and what it means to lose you, no one will ever know. The world may change from year to year, and friends from day to day, but the memory of your loving smile, will never fade away. Sadly missed by Father, Mother, and Sister. 135

MASTERS OF FAIRWAY - - By Alan Maver

Dear Abby... By Abigail VanBuren

Time to About-Face Mom!

DEAR ABBY: My 13-year-old daughter refuses to go to the dentist. She has not been to one in four years and her teeth are awful. Maybe other mothers have this problem and you could help us all. Please print your answer.

UNHAPPY MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Any mother who has been taking orders from her 13-year-old daughter for four years has my deepest sympathy. If your child had a broken arm you wouldn't ASK her if she cared to go to a doctor, would you? TELL her you are taking her—and for goodness sakes, take her!

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband had an affair with a married woman in his office. We almost settled it in the divorce court but because three children were to be considered we changed our minds. He doesn't see her any more and has been trying hard to make it up to me. I am trying to forget the past, too. But, Abby when he takes me in his arms and kisses me, my heart aches because I know he is thinking of her. Can you help me?

ACHING HEART

DEAR ACHING: Unless you enjoy making yourself miserable don't go in for mind reading. Maybe he's thinking what an angel you are!

DEAR ABBY: I've been wondering for a long time what I should do about this problem. I'm a widow with one child. I don't have many dates but when I do have a date, should I let my date pay for the sitter? Some men can afford it better than others. But I get so embarrassed when they insist on paying the sitter and I have to put up a fight to stop them. Being a working widow I have to watch my pennies but I have always paid my own sitters. Some of my friends say, "Let them pay," and others say, "Don't obligate yourself." I would appreciate an opinion from you or any other woman who has had this problem and solved it.

GERTIE

DEAR GERTIE: On the first date, NO. Regardless. After that, if he offers with real sincerity and you know he can afford it—surrender, Dear.

DEAR ABBY: I love children but enough is enough. A family moved next door to me and the first day, a little boy rapped on my back door and said he smelled. I was making "something good." I was baking cookies so when they were done I have him some. Now almost every day he raps on my kitchen door. If I don't answer it, he goes to the front and rings my bell. He asks me to give him "something good." Sometimes I am napping, or on the telephone, or busy, but he rings until I appear. His mother has never spoken to me, she just nods and waves. How can I handle this problem? It's like feeding a stray cat. Once you do it, there's no end.

MRS. S.

DEAR MRS. S.: It's time you spoke to his mother. She probably doesn't know her son is disturbing you. If, after you tell her, the boy persists, then it's up to you to tell him (nicely), "When I have 'something good' I'll call YOU—don't call ME."

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Time to About-Face Mom!

DEAR ABBY: My 13-year-old daughter refuses to go to the dentist. She has not been to one in four years and her teeth are awful. Maybe other mothers have this problem and you could help us all. Please print your answer.

UNHAPPY MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Any mother who has been taking orders from her 13-year-old daughter for four years has my deepest sympathy. If your child had a broken arm you wouldn't ASK her if she cared to go to a doctor, would you? TELL her you are taking her—and for goodness sakes, take her!

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband had an affair with a married woman in his office. We almost settled it in the divorce court but because three children were to be considered we changed our minds. He doesn't see her any more and has been trying hard to make it up to me. I am trying to forget the past, too. But, Abby when he takes me in his arms and kisses me, my heart aches because I know he is thinking of her. Can you help me?

ACHING HEART

DEAR ACHING: Unless you enjoy making yourself miserable don't go in for mind reading. Maybe he's thinking what an angel you are!

DEAR ABBY: I've been wondering for a long time what I should do about this problem. I'm a widow with one child. I don't have many dates but when I do have a date, should I let my date pay for the sitter? Some men can afford it better than others. But I get so embarrassed when they insist on paying the sitter and I have to put up a fight to stop them. Being a working widow I have to watch my pennies but I have always paid my own sitters. Some of my friends say, "Let them pay," and others say, "Don't obligate yourself." I would appreciate an opinion from you or any other woman who has had this problem and solved it.

GERTIE

DEAR GERTIE: On the first date, NO. Regardless. After that, if he offers with real sincerity and you know he can afford it—surrender, Dear.

DEAR ABBY: I love children but enough is enough. A family moved next door to me and the first day, a little boy rapped on my back door and said he smelled I was making "something good." I was baking cookies so when they were done I have him some. Now almost every day he raps on my kitchen door. If I don't answer it, he goes to the front and rings my bell. He asks me to give him "something good." Sometimes I am napping, or on the telephone, or busy, but he rings until I appear. His mother has never spoken to me, she just nods and waves. How can I handle this problem? It's like feeding a stray cat. Once you do it, there's no end.

MRS. S.

DEAR MRS. S.: It's time you spoke to his mother. She probably doesn't know her son is disturbing you. If, after you tell her, the boy persists, then it's up to you to tell him (nicely), "When I have 'something good' I'll call YOU—don't call ME."

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Burglary Prevention Week To Be Observed June 7-13

Local Police Chief Elmer Merri-man concerned about house-break-ing announced today that the week of June 7 thru 13 will be observed as Burglary Prevention Week in Circleville.

This is not just another "week," emphasized the chief. It is being held in conjunction with a state-wide program by the Ohio Assn. of Chiefs of Police to educate the public on how they can help reduce burglary losses.

Chief Merri-man went on to say, that burglary losses are "big business" for some people. During 1958, approximately 650,000 burglary offenses were reported across the country, or about 75 burglaries actually committed every hour, every day of the year! True, it's an alarming figure, but even more alarming is the fact that most of these burglaries could have been prevented if the public had taken just a little more interest and care in their personal property.

People too often leave their homes for an evening, weekend, or vacation, without a thought given to the precautions recommended by their police department. Windows are left open, keys left under the door mat or in the mail box, a completely dark house or even worse, lights are left burning twenty-four hours a day. All ear-marks that tell a burglar — "This place is a push-over."

THE WAR against burglary is "two - fold" . . . the prevention of burglaries by the homeowners before they occur and the apprehension of burglars who dare commit the crime! Apprehension, of course, is the continuing job of the police department, but the primary responsibility for prevention must rest squarely upon the shoulders of the homeowner. Only with his full cooperation can this war against the ever - increasing burglary rate be successful.

To do your part in this battle of wits against the burglar, Chief Merri-man has recommended these simple precautions be taken by everyone when leaving their home or apartment:

1. Close and lock all windows and doors, including basement, porch and garage. Use pin tumbler cylinder locks on all outside doors.

2. Leave a lamp or two connected to an automatic timer to turn lights on and off regularly each evening. This makes the home look "lived-in" and is a good protective measure.

3. If you are going away for a week-end or for a vacation, notify local police officials as to the date you are leaving, and the date on which you will return.

4. Have the post office stop mail deliveries to your home while you're away and make certain that no store deliveries will arrive during your absence.

5. CANCEL milk and newspaper deliveries. An accumulation of milk bottles and newspapers is a sure sign that you're not home.

6. If you are on vacation, have your lawn mowed and your sidewalk swept by a neighbor at least once a week.

7. Have your phone disconnected, if you're going away. Burglars will sometimes call to see if someone is home.

8. Tell one neighbor when you are leaving. Have him notify the police if he sees anyone prowling around.

9. Do not close shade or blinds completely. Leave them as you normally would when you are home.

10. Never advertise your departure with an item in the paper, or broadcast the news to your neighborhood at large. Burglars have big ears.

11. NEVER leave ladders and tools where outsiders can get at them. To do so is equivalent to giving a thief a key to your front door.

12. Close your garage doors. An empty garage with the door open is a good sign that no one's home.

13. Do not let friends, neighbors or work associates of the valuable possessions you have around the house. In fact, never leave valuables lying around the house. Place them in a safety deposit box.

Use your head and save your property. Start practicing the above rules during Burglary Prevention Week. Make them a life-long habit. Remember there are not enough policemen to go around . . . you have to take some of the responsibility for property protection yourself.

Athens GI Loses Appeal On Desertion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Court of Military Appeals has upheld the desertion conviction of Army Pvt. Howard M. Holder, 31, of Athens, Ohio.

Holder was picked up by the FBI in Empire, La., last September and found guilty of deserting his tank battalion in Germany two years earlier. He was sentenced to a bad conduct discharge, two years at hard labor and loss of pay and allowances.

Defense attorneys said the FBI agent arresting Holder had not preceded his questioning of Holder by explaining the accused man's rights as required by military law. The latter requires that suspects be told of the charge against them and advised that any statement may be used against them.

Judge George W. Latimer, speaking for a 2-1 majority that upheld the conviction, said the military services have no control over FBI operations, even when agents are tracking down deserters.

Judge Homer Ferguson, who dissented, argued that the FBI agent acted on behalf of the Army and that his testimony was voided because of failure to explain to Holder his rights.

Resident's Sister Retires From the Teaching Field

Miss Mary C. Evens, sister of Dorothy Evens Crist, 171 Montclair Ave., retired from teaching at Chillicothe High School yesterday.

Miss Evens taught school for 43 years, 37 of which were in the Chillicothe school system. She taught English and Latin.

Miss Evens and Mrs. Crist will leave June 11 for a two months trip through the British Isles. They will fly to Montreal and take a Canadian Pacific ship to Scotland.

Prisoners Quit Perch on Tower

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Two Graterford State Penitentiary prisoners have ended a 38-hour perch on a catwalk on a 185-foot water tower.

Raymond E. Thompson, 26, and Donald Brady, 24, both convicted burglars from Philadelphia, climbed down Friday night.

Warden David Myers had said they "can stay up there as long as they want" and made no special effort to get the pair down. He said he thought they were seeking publicity.

Myers had a talk with the men when they got down, but didn't say what he has in store for them. They're back in their cells.

Vandemark, Wilson To Attend Legion Buckeye Boys State

GARY VANDERMARK

Gary Vandemark, 16, a junior at Circleville High School, and Bruce C. Wilson, 16 a junior at Pickaway Twp. High School, have been selected to represent Circleville and Pickaway County at the American Legion's Buckeye Boys State at Ohio University, June 11-20 according to Dudley Radcliff, commander of Hall-Adkins Post No 134. The local BPO Elks will serve as co-sponsor for the program.

Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Vandemark, 230 Sunset Drive. Bruce is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Wells Wilson, Pickaway Twp.

At the Athens campus, Vandemark and Wilson will be two of 1,000 citizens of a mythical "51st State", divided into four counties and 20 cities. It will be the 22nd session of the Ohio American Legion's annual "school in self-government."

Both Wilson and Vandemark were selected by their school principals on the basis of scholastic honors and interest in government and history.

VANDERMARK, maintaining a 3.74 accumulative grade average, played football and performed with the CHS track team this school year. One of his favorite subjects is American History and he plays the trumpet in the Circleville High Band.

Wilson excels in world and American History, public speaking, science and mathematics. He plays football, basketball and baseball and is an E flat alto in the band.

The 1,000 young citizens, all selected from high school junior classes over the state, will automatically find themselves members of one of two political parties—Nationalists and Federalists—and will plunge into politics after a brief orientation period. They will hold their own party caucuses and conventions to select candidates for city, county and state offices and the various judgeships.

The general election & Sunday, June 14, will be followed at night

Boat Is Taken At Darby Creek

Les Brown, 371 Logan St., informed local sheriff's department yesterday that his boat was missing from its anchoring spot on Darby Creek in Jackson Twp.

Brown said the 12-foot plywood boat was moored near the water works plant west of the city. He said the boat was removed by breaking a lock.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Felkey said the boat is marine bronze on the outside and green inside. Brown said a new set of oars also is missing.

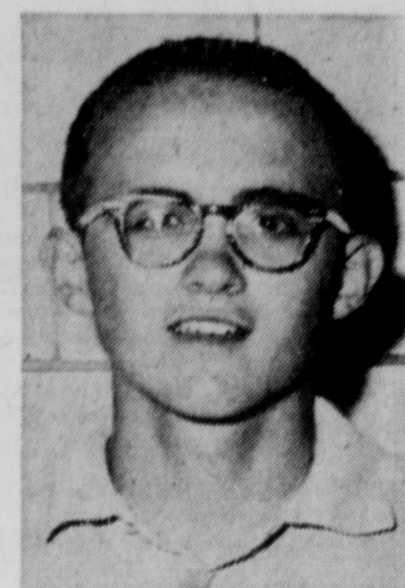

Brehmer Seeks Seat

Robert L. Brehmer Jr., 895 Atwater Ave., took out petitions for a seat on the Circleville Board of Education Thursday from the Pickaway County Board of Elections.

Brehmer said he had been in the county jail for 10 days on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

"I'll pay the fine," he replied, "I have to get back to work."

by a ceremonial inauguration of the governor and the installation of other elected state officers and supreme court judges. All their officials then will be qualified, appointive offices will be filled and for four full days the youngsters will govern themselves in accordance with the laws of Ohio.

Assisting the boys will be a voluntary instruction staff of about 50 experienced legionnaires, some 35 colleagues who are majoring in government, law and other allied studies and numerous state officials from Columbus.

The youthful group will have its own band, hear a list of notable speakers, enjoy many special shows and have plenty of time for supervised athletics and snacks in the canteen.

THE American Legion here and the local BPO Elks hope the boys will learn what the obligations of a citizen are to a community, state and nation as well as the accompanying duty and responsibility of having rights and privileges of free government.

This will mark the first year that the local Elks have co-sponsored representatives to the Buckeye Boys State.

Logan Coed Is Straight 'A' 10 Years

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Imagine going through 10 years of schooling with a straight "A" average all the way.

That's the enviable record of Mrs. Patricia Donahey Cooksey who graduates Sunday from Ohio University here.

Mrs. Cooksey, who married last September, never knew what it was to get a "B" on her report card in two years of junior high school, four years of high school and four years of college.

She majored in zoology and minored in chemistry at Ohio U. After graduation, she and her husband, Roderick, will move to Columbus where she has accepted a job as bacteriologist and chemist (at Warrenton Products Co.).

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sterling Donahey of Logan, she graduated from Nelsonville High School.

She Wants in Jail But Not as Prisoner

DETROIT (AP)—"Pay $50 or serve 10 days in county jail," Traffic Court Judge George T. Murphy told Mrs. Hassie Dole who pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge.

Mrs. Dole is a matron at the county jail.

Judge Studies Sanity of Cop-Killer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Kenneth L. Sater will rule Tuesday on the sanity of Arthur Lee Cole, convicted killer of an Ashtabula policeman.

At a hearing Friday three psychiatrists testified that Cole is mentally ill. Dr. J. J. Alpers, Ohio Penitentiary psychiatrist, said Cole told of hearing voices while in his cell.

Drs. William F. Kaumeyer and Gerd Leopoldt, both psychiatrists from Columbus State Hospital, also testified.

If Judge Sater rules Cole legally sane, the fate of the convicted murderer rests with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. DiSalle, who personally opposes the death penalty, has not yet been forced to make the life-or-death decision while in office. Cole is slated to die June 12 in the electric chair.

Cole was convicted of killing Eino Toivola on Oct. 21, 1957. The officer had come to Cole's home where a fight was reported. Both the Seventh District Court of Appeals and Ohio Supreme Court have turned down Cole's appeals.

Women's Club Condemns Cheesecake

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The ladies figure a gal's figure is her own business—not to be exploited by someone else's business.

And cheesecake—the female art you see on calendars, not the stuff you buy in pastry shops—is an evil.

So declared a resolution of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The group ended its annual meeting Friday.

The 3,000 delegates passed a resolution condemning exploitation of feminine appeal after hearing Mrs. Walter Magee of Lakewood, Ohio, complain:

"A woman is no longer a lady; she is simply a set of bodily measurements."

But another delegate warned adoption of the resolution "might lead thousands of young women to decide they are not the women's club type."

The resolution, passed after lengthy debate, urges clubs to influence public opinion "to correct this evil" and "inform any media which indulges in such abuses of their objections."

Burglary Prevention Week To Be Observed June 7-13

Local Police Chief Elmer Merri-man concerned about house-break-ing announced today that the week of June 7 thru 13 will be observed as Burglary Prevention Week in Circleville.

This is not just another "week", emphasized the chief. It is being held in conjunction with a state-wide program by the Ohio Assn. of Chiefs of Police to educate the public on how they can help reduce burglary losses.

Chief Merri-man went on to say, that burglary losses are "big business" for some people. During 1958, approximately 650,000 burglary offenses were reported across the country, or about 75 burglaries actually committed every hour, every day of the year! True, it's an alarming figure, but even more alarming is the fact that most of these burglaries could have been prevented if the public had taken just a little more interest and care in their personal property.

People too often leave their homes for an evening, weekend, or vacation, without a thought given to the precautions recommended by their police department. Windows are left open, keys left under the door mat or in the mail box... a completely dark house or even worse, lights are left burning twenty-four hours a day. All ear-marks that tell a burglar — "This place is a push-over".

THE WAR against burglary is "two - fold"... the prevention of burglaries by the homeowners before they occur and the apprehension of burglars who dare commit the crime! Apprehension, of course, is the continuing job of the police department, but the primary responsibility for prevention must rest squarely upon the shoulders of the homeowner. Only with his full cooperation can this war against the ever - increasing burglary rate be successful.

To do your part in this battle of war against the burglar, Chief Merri-man has recommended these simple precautions to be taken by everyone when leaving their home or apartment:

1. Close and lock all windows and doors, including basement, porch and garage. Use pan tumbler cylinder locks on all outside doors.
2. Leave a lamp or two connected to an automatic timer to turn lights on and off regularly each evening. This makes the home look "lived-in" and is a good protective measure.
3. If you are going away for a week-end or for a vacation, notify local police officials as to the date you are leaving, and the date on which you will return.
4. Have the post office stop mail deliveries to your home while you're away and make certain that no store deliveries will arrive during your absence.
5. CANCEL milk and newspaper deliveries. An accumulation of milk bottles and newspapers is a sure sign that you're not home.
6. If you are on vacation, have your lawn mowed and your sidewalk swept by a neighbor at least once a week.
7. Have your phone disconnected, if you're going away. Burglars will sometimes call to see if someone is home.
8. Tell one neighbor when you are leaving. Have him notify the police if he sees anyone prowling around.
9. Do not close shade or blinds completely. Leave them as you normally would when you are home.
10. Never advertise your departure with an item in the paper, or broadcast the news to your neighborhood at large. Burglars have big ears.
11. NEVER leave ladders and tools where outsiders can get at them. To do so is equivalent to giving a thief a key to your front door.
12. Close your garage doors. An empty garage with the door open is a good sign that no one's home.
13. Do not tell friends, neighbors or work associates of the valuable possessions you have around the house. In fact, never leave valuables lying around the house. Place them in a safety deposit box.

Use your head and save your property. Start practicing the above rules during Burglary Prevention Week. Make them a life-long habit. Remember there are not enough policemen to go around... you have to take some of the responsibility for property protection yourself.
